ALLEN C. FILLER, Adjt. Gen'L. PRIVATE DISPATCH. SPRINGFIELD, August 9-8 p. m.

INDIANAPOLIS, August S.—The sixteen regiments in the State are all full to overflowing, and have a sufficient number of men to fill the 79th and 59th regiments.

The arrangements have been completed to coroll and draft the millit. Lists of persons who have volunteered, as well as those of all able-bodied white citizens, will be made our, thus enabling the State authorities to credit the counties and townships with the number of men furnished, and charge them with any deficiency. of men furnished, and charge them with any deficiency.

COLUMBUS, O., August S.—The State's quota is now hearly full. Additional companies are being raised in some districts. A dispatch from John Sherman amounces the 200 man went into camp at Mansfield to-day, and 400 more will follow on Monday, raised principally in Bichland county. Quetermaster General Wright received notification to-night that 9,000 direct-class Austrian muckets had been shipped to him for the new regiments.

WHAT OULE COUNTY HAS DONE.

[Special Correspondence of the Oblogy Tribine] Ourson, Quiz GUCSTY, Aug. 7, 1892.

Chroos, Quic Courty, Aug. 7, 1892.

The Board of Supervisors of Ogle county have just adjourned after a session of three hours, in which they have done a work that does credit to themselves and honor to our loyal people. An appropriation of $25,000 was made for the payment of bounties—sirty dollars to each volunteer. We have already sont some 1,000 men to the army, and will tave four companies ready in a week. Our county page some $1,400 monthly to the families of those in the field, and will extend the same provision to those now entisting. Our county clerk Albert Woodcock, and our trassurer, Horsee J. Smith, and other active much, have enlisted, and are radiog companies. Ogle is always right. Death to traitors, and the use of every means with which God and nature have endowed us, is our motic.

LIVINGSTON COUNTY.

(Special Correspondence of the Chicago Tribuna.) Ownour, Livingston, is progressing most eatisfactorily. The prospects of filling up the fourth company, with headquarters at Disight, are extremely good. There will be no drafting in this county, and this village will be well represented in the grand army, notwithstanding all our drawbates.

McNett, mily confirming the news of his success near Kirksvithe. Col. McNett cause up with Porter's forces, and instantly engaged them. The rebels were disconcerted by his furious charges, and fied into and through town, closely pursued. They were entirely routed, and, although at first fighting tesperately, the gainst conduct of McNeti's command prevailed, and they abandoned everything, part of Porter's remaining force scattering, and in that manner seeking safety. Forty prisoners were taken, besides 200 stand of arms, 200 horses, and a large number of wagons. In killed and wounded the enemy lost 150, while our own killed was five, and twenty-five wounded. The ongagement was a brilliant one, and it is thought that Porter's forces are so demoralized that they will disperse.

NUSTAINING THE SOVERINTENT

Quite a number of eminently respectable and loyal journal as, especially among those toward the salt-water regions, to speak after the manner of the Autocrat, are soltemnly enjoining upon their brethren of the press, and the people the duty of "Sostaining the Government," an excellent theme, a duty to be commended to every patriot. The Government is at war. It has on its hands a "big job." It needs every ald that can pull an ounce forward Every feather weight should be removed, that tends to retard progress. So far we agree with these eminently loyal journalists and wish that their circulation might mever grow less.

But perhaps we differ from them in the manner of squaming the government, and our interpretation of how that duty is best.

These journals bid the press and people sustain the Government, by as a great struct, just as peremptory, as the wind of coloration. But we do not depend upon the execution, which his arm and prayers would shield her, this should be one and of the people and we approve it hearity. Let there be an end of carping and fault-flading, and let every man who loves his country aim to foster united counsels.

But, it strikes us that a little inconsistency appears in the argument of some of these sail water journals. They is understand, and the government are of the people, and we must go for s'and, they concede that. And yet these sail water journals, too many of them object, greatly to the enlighteemment of the people. They may that they had done to the proper that they had done to the people and we approve it hearity.

And we must go for ward, they concede that. And yet these salt water journals, too many of them object greatly to the enlightenment of the people. They urge that what tends to warn and educate and inform the people must be kept back and smothered if it be any wines in advance of the sentiment embodied in the acts of the government. The case becomes a perfect dead-lock, of a government wating to know the will of the people, and the people enjoined to reticence lost they interfers or cast distrust on the acts of the government.

We can imagine that this might amount right to exist, and cannot exist, unless we have the people with the this might amount right to exist, and cannot exist, unless we have the people with the people of the tell people and the people enjoined to reticence lost they interfers or cast distrust on the acts of the government. seed. But the same twenty-rous seed, but the same twenty-roused rouseless his invitation to the colored brings as also the decision of the magistrate, Abraham Lincole, that none that the light of States soldiers. that chronicles his invitation to the colored people, briege us also the decision of the chief magistrate, Abraham Lincoln, that none but white men must be United States soldiers. This reply to the delegation waiting upon him, "Gentiews, you have my answer," is kingly and lacone. But is it not a huardous decision? The president says he hates slavery as much as any Modifornial, Does not his tarted also extend to the colored man, be he irre or slave? Has the country anything to do with his private hates or loves? Our country is in danger, and nothing will save it but troe patriotism. Has he any right to consult coionizationist or anti-colonizationist? Will conditional Union men save the country? He may save the Union, debase and even exterminate the colored people of this country, but it is a dangerous undertaking. We see some of the effects of this line of policy in the riots in Indians, Ohio. New York and other States, and all straible men must know that such must be the course of events. The continued cutrages upon the colored man, if the head of the government does advocate his debasement, and the day may not be far distant when all the better classes of our people will have to stek a home in another land. In the last few days the Governor of this State has been tendered a regiment of colored soldiers from Chicago which he was compelled to decline to accept. I hope this will be the last offer of the colored people to give their assistance in this areal struggle. They may as well be prepared to seek a home elsewhere—for it is foolish to this or remaining here after this war is over.

I shall not enlarge upon the fitness of this seil and climate for the cultivation of cotton. Years of experience have fully established the fact that we can grow cotton fully equal in quality to what is known in commerce as "fair upland." At one-half the price of the present ruling rate, it would be the most prefitable crop that could be produced. In Williamson, Jackson and Union countles, a great many small patches have been planted—enough, probably, for home consumption, and could seed have been obtained at the plantide season there would have undoubtedly been a large quantity of the product for exportation. The government, which had made an appropriation for the purpose, generously offered to furnish through the patent office, cotton seed of a good quality to all who would undertake to plant it. After much anxions waiting the farmers of the State of lilmois were supplied with the instantiant amount of seventy-free business, not enough to plant a single field upon the scale which some of our farmers had contemplated,—and even this amount was not forther coming ouths account of the state of the state of the same of the country of the same plantide, and the same season of the same state of the same of the country of the same season of our farmers had contemplated,—and even this amount was not forther consignations. MINING. The coal mines of Dn Quoin occupy to a large degree the industry of the town. Three mines have been opened and are all in successful operation, capable of producing an aggregate of about two handred tons a day. In the year 1861 the export from this town amounted to nearly 20,000 tons. It is delivered in the village at $1.50 per ton, and at the mines at $1.25 per ton. It is feared that the active recruiting now going on may result in the chaing of one or even all of these in these, an occurrence to be deplored certainly, but for which I see no remesty.

FRUIT CULTURE.

FRUIT CULTURE.

As In other parts of southern Illnois, much strention is her given to orcharding. The peach comes to perfection early in Angust, and the picking and preparing it for market give employment to all who can be spared from other branches of industry. Quite a business is transacted in the fruit-preserving lines, the export amounting to several thousand caus per year. Just now the tinners are all busy in insking the cans, and they have received nore orders for manufacture than they can fill before the clock of the season. The peach or chard of Meser. Will ers contains 5,000 trees, and in every direction young orchards are growing, from five to twenty acres in extent, and all looking as promising as could be desired. My opinion that this is the natural-fruit growing region is strengthened by every is reard. The loyal people of the togal mane, who have seen expended so much treasure and blood in this contest, do hot want this business to proceed in this way any longer. One gress having done its whole duty, they now expect to administration to do its whole duty. I say to you my triends, that duty will be performed. I have the most cutties confidence in our President. Perhaps he is not as impeliances and does not go as fast as some of us. We complain, but we must remember, my friends, that while it may be our province to camplain, the responsibility of action is upon the Prasident. He may be slow, but, gentlemen, be is sure.

SPEECH OF HON. E. B. WASH.

ANTALY BUILDING MICH

icilows:

Mr. Washinger: In behalf of your German titled I great your arrival in this city. Accept our flather for the sympathy you have always about to our countairmen. We have watched your course in Congress, and permit mit me to say you have shown yourself to be a true repr sentitive of the people. We are proud of you. In times when indoleace, in suppressing this infamous rebellion, no matter of the action is may be. May you long the conserved to this comain and may you not case in your off ris to, entain that freedom to this nation, which a band of robels threaters to wrest from her. We will long remeater this pleasant interview, and may you always consider it as a wridense of slocers as to when hi to, four person, as a true representative of the people.

Mr. Washburne replied substantially as follows:

in the trievely call you have made upon mathals evening. The expression of your kind feelings in the but too flattering remarks of Mr. Kaufmann is gratefully accepted as an indication that my action as a public man has secured the approbation of my German fellow citizens. My acquaintance with the German has been long and somewhat intimate, and I have everree-lived from them the most heartfelt kindness and the most heartfelt kindness and the most leasant duty. I have known them as good Republicaus, as patriots, as lovers of liberty, as true and loyal men. I could never sympathize with that liliberal Know-Nothingiam which proceribes the foreign-born. I breasted it when it was riding upon the erest of the goopular wave. I would never covernt to proceribe must be with the country as my own. All good men now see and acknowledge the lipatice of Know-Nothingism. Those very foreign born citizens who were to be proscribed by oaths, are now religing to the defense of our flag in such numbers as to make the very earth tremble becamb their trend. Your brave German Generals Rigel, Max Weber, Willich and others, are illustrating the glory of the Germans co all the battle fields of the country. The German control who were to be proscribed to be adopted country in the battle fields of the country. The German common solides the honoring himself and making a great name for his country men, by his perialeted courage, his endurance, and his devotion to his adopted country. I have spoke not the political principles of the Germans. They are more who have the country. I have recognized to the foliest extent, their claims upon the administration and the country, and it has afforded me pleasure to lend my teelele induce to in their peak. I found that while there are many to speak for the country and it has ever been disposed to act with great liberality to the Germans. His appointment to positions in the army, and his civil appointment apport the treasury, the Germans have a true and tred triend. The secretary of the treasury, the Germ and of the desperate valor with which they, on more than one occasion, illustrated our arms we have aiready dwelt at length. The history of other nations is full of similar testimony. The English, the French, the Spanish, the Durch, the Turks, the Portuguese, indeed, so far as we are informed, all nations that have colored men as subjects or citizens, have employed them in military service, as we have done in our previous wars. And now in a contest in which there is more reason for their employment than ever before, and in which they are largely employed against us, we have stood hesitating to take advantage of their preferred service. But we trust that this he-station is over, and that we shall no longer reject the assistance of men who can render us such valuable aid. cent by renormer as a control of the critical upon no control ing its domain to the critical upon no control on but that of actual settlement and cultivation. Then, there is another act that will live in history—the act prohibiting slavery in every foot of the territory of the United States. While Congress might not have the power to abolish slavery in loyal States, it has at the power to prohibit it in all the territories, the power to prohibit it in all the territories, the power to prohibit it in all the territories, the power to prohibit it in all the territories. power to abolish slavery in loyal States, it has the power to prohibit it in all the territories, and who will not say it has exercised it nobly and gloriously, and in such a way, that its beinficent induces will reach down to the latest prosperity. But the crowning act of glory of this Congress is the bill abolishing slavery in the District of Columbia; that act which has stricken the shackles from the I'mis of 3,000 slaves in the capital of the country, and wiped out a great biot from the national excutcheon. No vote that I have ever given in Congress, in a ten years' service, is a

CONGRESSIONAL CONVENTION.

I'mbs of 3,000 elaves in the capital of the country, and wiped out a great biot from the national excutcheon. No vote that I have ever given in Congress, in a ten years' service, is a matter of so much just pride as that. Then there is the Facilic railroan bill passed, which will open up an iron pathway to the golden sands of the Facilic. Then there is the Agricultural college bill, which has also been passed, so that the sons of the farmers can be deucated. And then there is the Confiscation bill, which has also been passed, so that the sons of the farmers can be deucated. And then there is the Confiscation bill, which if carried out in the spirit in which it was enacted, will go far toward putting down this secured rebellion. Added to these sere various other measures and appropriation bills, and all the others which has been necessary to carry on the government in these perilous times.

And how, my friends, among all the angry portents in the horizen, what do we most want as a nation? We want a vigorous and determined policy of administration. I was glad to hear your orgon on this occasion, Mr. Kanfmann, speak of that as he did. The time has come when this contest for the suppression of the rebellion must be waged in earnest. We must now "cry have and let slip the dogs of war." The sword must be drawn and the scabberd thrown away. The national life is in imminent danger, and it must be defauded at every cost and every peril. We have played war long enough—too long. There has been too much tendencess for rebels and rebel sympathisers. All this must be changed. Our solders must no longer guard the property of rebels who are in arms against their government, and who have forfeited every claim to life, liberty and property. This must come to an end, and the country halls the order of the brave Gen. Pope on this subject, with delight, it "looks to business." We must make use of all the means known to civilized warfare, if we mean to put down this fearful rebellion. I shall take new courage when it see our general Seventh District. Notice is hereby given that a Delegate Republican Convention, for the seventh Congressional district, will be high at Tolono, on Wednesday, the 27th day of August, 1982, for the purpose of patting in nomination a suitable person to represent said district in Congress, and for the transaction of such other business as may be expedient.

The ratio of representation will be as follows, viz: One delegate for every 300 votes cast for Abranam Lincoln for president of the United States in 1860, and one additional delegate for every fractional vote exceeding fifty.

Loyal citizens, regardless of former political searchious, who are in favor of giving the national administration their hearty support in a thorough and vigerous prosecution of the war for the suppression of the rebellion, are invited to cooperate with us.

At the last presidential election the vote in the several counties stood as follows:

Commise.

Lincoln vote. Delegates.

Gov. Spragme's Colored Regiment.

[From the Providence Journal.]

We are sure that the order of the Governor which we published yesterday will be received with unusual estimation. Every man who wishes to put down the rebellion, to carry on the war with the greatest vigor and effect, will recognize the propriety of employing every class of men who are able to render service to the government which protects them. Of all the folies and absurdities which the tid glove style of fighting has developed, nothing is more striking than the rotusal to employ In the loy-area and general of men valuable for every service, and the protection that has been deeded in the rebuilt of the protection of the protection reject the assistance of men who can render us such valuable sid. If Rhode Lisad has to sustain in this war a reputation which her conduct and valor have won for her la previous contests, the colored citizens of the state have their full share in the hereditary glory. The men whose ancestors, under the heroic Col. Greene, three times drove back the Hessians at the battle of Rhode Island, and who won the praise of Washington for their beering on other occasions, will not cater the army of freedom and civilization without a rame, and we are conduct they will not leave it without doing credit to hat name and entitling themselves ance to the thanks of their country.

We want to use the bayonet more, and the spade less. The brave and noble Grant tried the bayonet at Donelson with emineral anceas. May his easumple he followed claswhere. We must see more of the revolutionary fareor and energy. We want andacty. It was the terrible and turbinent Danton who, in the French revolution, said they wanted sudacity. without which in army is worth nothing in the hour of battle. Our war-worn army here in the field has many a manly heart in the ranks, throbbing betwirt sense of duty to his country and those deer cones at home, who feels it filly be fitting his worth and dignity as the head of a family said a man of usefulness in society, to stand daily shoulder to shoulder with irresponsible youths, and outraging ju-tice to his family by constantly imperfiling himself for thirteen dollars a month, who would be encouraged by promotion to ser-geantcy and increase of pay by four or seven dollars per month. Many braver and useful sergeants here have well earned their shoul-sergeants here have well earned their shoul-dollars per month. Many braver and useful sergeants here have well searned their shoulder-straps and swords, by patient effice duty and being the backbone of the ranks in the bloody hour. Many a gallant captain pants for more scopp.—for a larger command than a company. Many a studions and dignified colonel has comprehensively surveyed the field where he might have acted as general.

In war experience is the gam. The crisis of the country is too momentaous and delicate to hazard this 300,000 of men, and to gratify the ambition of a horde of obscure, small capitalists of recruiters claiming the boom of here with us, and we will slap them into real war in short order. We will take them where their heads will soon ring with hell's own music—the biss of the minies,—without their spending months in barracks, eating uncarned rations, and filring in cities with untarnished brass and unsolled blue-black. Officers in their first battlee spend their time in dodging the biss of the builet, which is a useless movement, the danger being past the instant the this is heard. Veteran officers don't dodge any more, but stand up and attend to their Demecratic Elevation of the Negro. A good deal has been said by our Democratic brethren against "bigger equality." It strikes us that when the draft comes a few days hence, and some of our brethren aforesaid find that their bodies are really to become targets for rebel builets, that they will begin to think that if a nigger could take their places it would be just as agreeable! Perhaps we are mistaken but then that is our opinion. But instead of being obliged to go to war and fight for the government as "down-trodden white men!" have to do, the generation of colored humans can "lay off." In the shade and complicently see white men is them to do the fighting while they are exempt! The nigger is thus above the writtems, instead of only being his equal. How do Democrats like it.

The Grops and Markets in Europe. The Mark Loss Express of the 3 is ill, reports the weather for the week anestited, with some bees's storms. It was becoming more and more confirmed that the later qualities of winast would be the main stay this season, that the becomes from the northern parks of the country were more favorable than from the southern, and that, on the whole, the gathering would be unequal. The effects of this was to be seen in the reduction of the stocks of fossien crays, and should the express he stocks of foreign gra'n, and should the crops not be dry when harvested, it was anticipated that he expected decime in the market would be ther lessened or prevented. Heavy rates had prevailed in Northern Europe
